Creating a Better World

Better World Framework

The Better World Framework is a set of coordinated programmes, campaigns, calls to action, and events designed to develop the competencies of young people to become global active citizens by taking action around issues related to sustainable development.

What is the purpose of an integrated approach?

Development of young people through actions taken for the community. Development of the community through the actions of young people.

This approach benefits community members and partners as it

- empowers young people to contribute to sustainable development
- provides opportunities for partners to engage young people around key global issues
- encourages collaborations with NSOs in the development of initiatives to tackle relevant local issues affecting young people and their community
- allows experts to work with young people in the development of innovative solutions, in collaboration with young people.

This approach benefits NSOs as it

- Aligns NSOs' educational objectives that are related to active global citizenship and community development with common global goals
- Aligns NSOs' community development initiatives with specific SDGs and competencies for sustainable development
- Provides a common monitoring and evaluation system to measure and report on the totality of Scouts' contribution to the achievement of the SDGs
- Facilitates the incorporation of topics and the development of new resources by WOSM (National, Regional, and World levels)
- Creates opportunities for partners that can help develop initiatives to tackle relevant local issues affecting young people and community.

Who are the key actors in the education for sustainable development?

Young People in the lead

Scouts of all ages including Cub Scouts, Junior Scouts, Senior Scouts and Rover Scouts are developing key competencies for sustainability and taking action for sustainable development.

Scouts of the World Award (SWA)

Introduction

The Scouts of the World Award is the only youth award by the World Organization of the Scout Movement (WOSM). It is open to Scout and non-Scout members between 17 and 26 years of age in Sri Lanka. It is an educational programme that helps participants understand and act on global issues, so that they may bring about social change at local or international level, in order to create a more open, just and peaceful society.

The programme focuses on three fields for actions:

1. Development – change, growth, or improvement over a period of time.

Health, education, respect for human rights, and the sustainable use of natural resources are as important as economic growth when it comes to development matters.

2. Peace – a situation in which there is no war between countries or groups.

As world citizens, Scouts can build a culture of peace, to fight against prejudices and racism, to mediate tense situations and resolve conflict, to promote intercultural understanding, and to create dialogue in their communities and abroad.

3. Environment – the natural world, including land, water, air, plants, and animals especially considered as something that is affected by human activity.

Effects of climate change such as rising temperatures, changes in precipitation patterns, rising sea levels, and more frequent weather-related disasters are evident. In order to address climate change, it requires unprecedented global cooperation across borders.

The Scouts of the World Award consists of two phases. They are

1. Scouts of the World Discovery (SW Discovery)
2. Scouts of the World Voluntary Service (SW Voluntary Service)

Participants have to complete both phases to obtain the Scouts of the World Award. They will then join the Scouts of the World Award Network whereby they will be able to share their experience with Scouts all over the world

PATRIMONITO SCOUT BADGE

Patrimonito (meaning ‘small heritage’ in Spanish), which represents a young heritage guardian, has been widely adopted as the international mascot of the World Heritage Education Programme.

With a similar vision to protect our World Heritage, WOSM and UNESCO collaborated and that gave birth to the World Scouting UNESCO World Heritage Recognition Programme (Patrimonito Scout Badge).

Programme Objectives

- To raise awareness and mobilize young people, Scouts or non-Scouts, to participate and help in World Heritage preservation and promotion
- To promote active citizenship among young people in the world, which is one of the aims of the UNESCO World Heritage Education Programme and World Scouting’s Youth Programme
- To develop World Heritage-related activities that will raise awareness among the younger generation and, help create as well as strengthen interactions between young people and local communities
- To provide a platform through the SW Award Programme for continuous action where Scouts and non-Scouts can deepen their knowledge, gain skills and contribute to cultural issues and sustainable behavior

Eligibility

Senior Scouts (14 1/2 – 18 years)

Champions for Nature Challenge

The Champions for Nature Challenge is a learning opportunity developed under the Better World Framework and Scouts for SDGs mobilization in partnership with WWF. The Challenge encourages young people to discover more about nature, biodiversity, and sustainable lifestyles, enabling youth to take concrete actions for our planet. It also empowers young people to be active global citizens.

The Champions for Nature Challenge supports the development of a specific set of competencies in young people to adopt responsible behavior towards the environment connected to the Earth Tribe learning paths of Better Choices, and Nature and Biodiversity. This set of competencies is complementary to many others that Scouting recognizes, as well as other recognized by other institutions aligned with Education for Sustainable Development Goals.

By taking up the Champions for Nature Challenge, young people develop their knowledge, skills, and attitudes essential for achieving Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) be part of a global youth movement for environmental action.

Dialogue for Peace

The programme is about how to instill dialogue in our hearts and minds as a value, rather than just a skill. It builds a foundation for dialogue in our Movement and strengthens the Scouting value system. It aims to offer a clear path to any young person wanting to become what we call, a dialogical Scout. This is one of the ways to create a better world, and to achieve global peace. The Dialogue for Peace Programme is part of the Better World Framework and the Scouts Global Network, working in close collaboration with the Scout World Programmes, Regional and national level initiatives.

Through dialogue Scouts can

- Learn to find similarities unnoticed before, and even come to respect and sometimes appreciate differences
- Come together as human beings first to find inclusive solutions to the challenges we face today
- Empower young people with the skills and competencies that enable them to actively participate in the decision making and resolution of community issues for a sustainable development.

3 badges are available & any young person will choose according to their age range a range of activities that suits him/her to achieve the different levels of the badge. The trained trainers and facilitators can play a constructive role in helping them to achieve this.
